

"WANTS!" "WANTS!"
125,048
House, Room, Apartment, Board
Advertisements
Published in THE WORLD During 1887.

PRICE ONE CENT.

NO WAKE FOR THE WHY.

THE FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD IN STRICT PRIVACY.

Only the Dead Man's Near Relatives and Two Friends to be Present—The Procession to Calvary Cemetery to Consist of Three Coaches—Squads of Driscoll's Friends Seeking to See the Body.

The Sixth Ward has been in a state of intense but decorously subdued excitement ever since it became known that the body of Dan Driscoll was at 496 Pearl street.

All last evening the doorbell of Undertaker John F. Whelan's store was kept jangling, and squads of young men filed up the steps and stood respectfully with uncovered heads. Their invariable request was to be allowed to see the body of the dead Why chief.

The store closed at 10 o'clock, but applicants continued to ply the bell until midnight. The something occurred the whole of this morning, beginning at very early hour. With few exceptions the callers were of the male sex, young men wearing tight trousers, pea-jackets and big hats, decidedly tough in appearance and speech.

A little crowd was preceded by a spokesman and a good deal of talking was done to try and get a look at the body.

All were disappointed, however. Undertaker Whelan sat at his desk and quietly told the numerous delegations that their wishes could not be gratified.

The condemned man, he said, had given explicit directions before his execution that none but near relatives should be allowed to see his body, and he proposed to respect those wishes.

Mr. Whelan showed this letter in Driscoll's handwriting:

DEAR SIR: Call upon me to-morrow (Saturday) in regard to my burial. I know you will hold my wishes in the matter sacred. You must apply to the Sheriff for permission to see for your trip.

DANIEL DRISCOLL.

While an EVENING WORLD reporter was in the store this morning, a body, hard-featured man opened the door and begged hard to be allowed to see the body.

"I have come all the way from Troy to see him," he urged, "and it has cost me $10, counting my day's wages and my expenses."

"I don't care if it cost you $10," was Mr. Whelan's reply. "You can't see him."

The body lies in a room in the rear of the store. It is in a casket of hard brown wood, clothed with the best of broad cloth. The casket has silver handles and rich trimmings. On the lid of the casket is a silver plate with the inscription:

It has been a mystery here that he was thirty-three years old, but his mother insists that he was only twenty-nine. She says also that it was not true that he is a native of New York. He was born in England in the year 1858.

Every effort will be made to keep the funeral as secret as possible. Old Mrs. Driscoll has given directions that everything shall be neat and respectable. She is prepared to pay from $100 to $200 for the burial of her son, but there will be no ostentatious display.

A plot of ground has been secured in Calvary Cemetery and the interment will be there.

Mr. Whelan will not say positively whether the funeral will take place this afternoon or evening or early to-morrow morning, but he is inclined to think it will be held in the afternoon.

The funeral would have taken place from old Mrs. Driscoll's house had it not been feared that a crowd would collect and mar the quiet before Judge Gilchrist's court.

Driscoll objected strongly to a wake being held over his body, and gave positive orders that nothing of the kind should be attempted.

His wishes will be obeyed, though it costs much against the grain to forego this ceremony—considered so indispensable to a Sixth Ward funeral.

A lot of people in the ward have asked to know when the funeral will take place so that they can send coaches, but they have been told to spare themselves the trouble, as they will not be allowed to follow the hearse.

There will be three coaches, and the only mourners will be old Mrs. Driscoll, the young widow, George Driscoll, brother of Dan, the three sons—John, Owen, Bruen and Mrs. Della Gray, godmother of Driscoll's little girl.

Young Mrs. Driscoll was at her mother-in-law's, 126 Baxter street, this morning. She looked much more cheerful than she did on the occasion of her recent daily visits to her husband's cell, and neither she nor the old lady seem to have given way to excessive grief.

They would give no information as to the time fixed for the funeral, but young Mrs. Driscoll said that she had gone to the undertaker's this morning and chosen a burial dress for her husband.

It consisted of a black satin shroud, white silk waistcoat and a white tie.

The two religious pictures and the ivory crucifix which the Sisters of Charity took to the condemned man this morning, were placed in the casket. The casket was placed in the hearse, and the hearse was driven to the cemetery.

"WANTS!" "WANTS!"
125,048
House, Room, Apartment, Board
Advertisements
Published in THE WORLD During 1887.

PRICE ONE CENT.

LEFT THE JOKE TO SHOOT HIMSELF.

The Suicide Who Wanted to be Cremated a Jersey City Wine Merchant.

The man who shot himself through the heart at the new Odd-Fellows' Hall at Westchester on Sunday afternoon was George Baier, a wine merchant, who owned property valued at thousands of dollars, near his home, 131 Avenue E, in the fashionable Greenville district of Jersey City. He leaves a fortune of $125,000.

His body will be buried to-day in the New York City Cemetery at Yorkville, notwithstanding the written request that he be cremated found together with a $100 bill in his pockets.

Baier was fifty-eight years of age, and a grandfather. He kissed each member of his family early on Sunday morning and left home, saying that he intended to visit the new hall, to the cost of which he had contributed largely. He was wearing a dark suit, a green vest, and a white shirt with a bow tie.

At 2 o'clock, in the midst of after-dinner jokes, Baier arose, saying that he would look about the upper floors of the hall. He entered the bathroom, stripped himself, and, lying on his back on the floor, fired three shots into his heart.

The suicide is attributed to aberration of the mind, caused by money troubles. Baier lost heavily some years ago and showed the effect of the shock ever after. He had just bought and furnished a house on Danforth avenue, Greenville, into which his family was to move in a short time.

He leaves a widow and three children, two of them married.

CHINESE GAMBLERS FINED.

They Had Been Detained Without Food for Sixteen Hours and Asked for Mercy.

The tall, burly form of Lawyer Edmund E. Price formed a background for a group of four Celestials with shaven foreheads and coiled pigtails in Judge Gildersleeve's court this morning.

The prisoners were Hong Sing, who looked sixty-five years; Ah Lee, who must have been of the sphere mundane for half that time; Ah King, who was consumptive and perhaps forty-five years of age; and Ah Ling, who might be a voter if naturalized.

Each said he was forty-five years old, and all were charged with gambling by Commissioner Richard A. Smith.

Mr. Price said these clients had been indulging in a quiet game of penny-ante when Mr. Oram looked in. They had been locked up and detained without food for sixteen hours, and now they threw themselves on the mercy of the Court.

They were not capitalists, but a more prosperous looking Chinaman paid the fines of $10 each and they departed.

VERDICT FOR EBENEZER HOLMES.

The Jury Decides He Was Damaged by the "Times" to the Extent of $5,000.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 24.—The case of Ebenezer Holmes against George Jones, Treasurer of the New York Times, has been on trial at Baltimore since last Wednesday. The principal counsel were C. S. Lester and Matthew Hale for Holmes, and Dr. Herman T. Richter, Dr. W. C. Bracken for the defendant.

The libel was in the issue of Nov. 22, 1886, and stated that Holmes had presented a bill to the Grant family which they pronounced due to the fact that he was a member of the family. The jury was out all night and agreed at 6 o'clock this morning to a verdict for $5,000.

Innocent Defendants in a Law Suit.

Mrs. Susan R. Austin and Mrs. Elizabeth H. Lunt have been made defendants in the suit which the guardian of Ludlow W. Valentine has brought to gain possession of the house which it is alleged Mrs. Catherine C. Valentine transferred without due consideration to Dr. Herman T. Richter.

An account of Mrs. Valentine's death from "grief and consumption," was given in THE EVENING WORLD on the 10th inst. The house was bought by Mrs. Austin and the latter mortgaged it to Mrs. Lunt.

It seems hard to drag these ladies into the litigation. Mrs. Richter, the counsel for the plaintiff, said to an EVENING WORLD reporter this morning, "but our equity is entitled to as much consideration as Mrs. Austin's."

Her Other Ankle Was Sound.

Theresa Dennis was taken to the Gouverneur Hospital yesterday suffering from a sprained ankle. She refused to allow the doctors to examine her leg, and the hospital authorities were obliged to approach her, for she held her other foot in readiness for a kick. She escaped from the hospital and went to her home, where she was taken to a private hospital.

Justice committed her for three months.

Lawyer Dunn Arraigned in Court.

John R. Dunn, the lawyer who has been confined in Ludlow Street Jail for some months, was brought by the Manhattan Bank, in which he is charged that Dunn instigated Teller Scott to rob the bank and afterwards pocketed the money, was arraigned before Judge Gildersleeve in the Court of General Sessions, this morning, on an indictment for larceny in the second degree. An Dunn said he was not notified that his case would be called, it was postponed.

Ice and Stormy Seas.

The fields of ice which impeded navigation in the lower bay yesterday morning have been driven out to sea by the heavy winds. The New York ferry made a mass of ice from stem to stern. She experienced three days of terrible gales, with high head seas and high squalls.

Rev. Mr. Walker's Mission.

The Rev. Wm. Robert Walker, lately in charge of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, has been appointed to the committee appointed at the last convention of the Diocese of New York to act as general agent in procuring the amount due to that diocese to the Diocese of Albany.

Fired by an Incendiary.

The factory of the Pioneer Wood Company, on Henderson street, Jersey City, was fired by an incendiary this morning. The fire was caused by a man who was in the factory at the time. The police are looking for the man who started the fire.

"WANTS!" "WANTS!"
125,048
House, Room, Apartment, Board
Advertisements
Published in THE WORLD During 1887.

PRICE ONE CENT.

DEATH RATHER THAN JAIL.

TRAGIC ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE IN THE RAYMOND STREET PRISON.

Gustav Scholl jumps from a Prison Tier to the Stones Beneath—Picked Up Bruised and Senseless and Taken to the Hospital. He is One of the Assassins of Milkman Dunner.

Gustav Scholl, a German, thirty-eight years old, who is in the Raymond Street Jail, Brooklyn, awaiting trial on a charge of assault in the first degree, tried to commit suicide this morning.

For some time past he has been confined in a cell on the third tier of the main prison, some fifty feet up from the ground floor.

About 6.30 this morning, while the prisoners were being marched out to the wash-room, Scholl suddenly made a jump over the somewhat low railing which skirts the gallery running around the exterior of the cells.

The keepers on the ground floor saw him fall, and rushed to his assistance. Meantime an ambulance which had been summoned arrived. The ambulance surgeon, after a hasty examination, pronounced him to have sustained severe internal injuries.

His face and head are also badly lacerated. He was removed to the City Hospital.

Scholl is one of two men who a few weeks ago assaulted James Dunner, a milkman, in a stable at East New York with a bale stick.

A TRIAL BY JURY FIRST.

Mr. Crosby's Bill to Prevent the Commitment of Sane Persons to Asylums.

(SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.)

ALBANY, Jan. 24.—In the Assembly this morning Mr. Crosby offered a bill which requires a trial by jury before a person can be committed to an asylum for the insane.

Mr. Shea presented another, which is aimed at the changing of cars at the junction of the Second Avenue Railroad and the Suburban Rapid Transit road. It provides that through trains must be run.

Mr. Rosenthal introduced another bill prohibiting storage without keepers from selling goods in their charge, at least until due notice is given the owners.

About noon the Assembly and Senate met in joint session to elect a Regent of the University in place of Elias W. Leavenworth, deceased.

The Republicans had Carroll G. Smith, editor of the Syracuse Journal, slated for the place, while the Democrats put up C. Ananian Davis, a lawyer.

The vote of the Assembly was 67 for Smith and 45 for Davis, eight Democrats refusing to vote for Ananian. Twenty Republicans and Senators voted for Smith and eleven Democrats for Davis. The Lieutenant Governor, therefore, formally declared Editor Smith elected.

Which Steamer Was at Fault?

The collision between La Gacogne and the Swissland on last Saturday afternoon may result in a suit to ascertain which steamer was responsible for the disaster. The French line and the Red Star are on very friendly terms. It was said in maritime circles that the Red Star agent intended to libel La Gacogne as soon as the responsible party was ascertained.

The Swissland was towed to the Erie Basin yesterday morning for repairs. The extent of her damage is not known. The Swissland is a fine vessel, and the cargo was not damaged. The passengers will probably sail again on the Westernland.

The Swissland will resume trips in two weeks.

A Brutal Wife-Beater Arrested.

John Stanton, aged forty-six years, of No. 222 East 10th street, was brought here last night and quarreled with his wife, Bridget, because she suspected her husband had not sent him the money he had promised her. She was taken to the hospital and is now recovering.

Court of Appeals Decisions.

(SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.)

ALBANY, Jan. 24.—Court of Appeals decisions: In re application of New York City and Northern Railroad Company, to acquire land, acc. Order affirmed with costs.

Victoria Street, respondent, vs. New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, appellant. Order affirmed without costs.

Victoria Street, respondent, vs. United States Mutual Accident Association of New York, appellant. Appeal dismissed with costs.

George Baier, respondent, vs. Metropolitan Elevated Railroad, appellant. Motion to restore cause granted without costs.

Hearing on the Crosby High-License Bill.

(SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.)

ALBANY, Jan. 24.—The battle over the Crosby High-License bill, which it was anticipated would be on to-day in the Assembly, has been postponed. Chairman Knibb, of the Excise Committee, since the protests of Messrs. McKenna and Wemple, Democrats, and Messrs. McKenna and Wemple, Republicans, have been showered with petitions for a hearing, not only from supporters of the measure, but from brewers and saloon-keepers. The arguments will be heard to-morrow at 4 p. m.

"WANTS!" "WANTS!"
125,048
House, Room, Apartment, Board
Advertisements
Published in THE WORLD During 1887.

PRICE ONE CENT.

IN GREAT DEMAND ALL DAY.

"THE EVENING WORLD" AHEAD OF ALL RIVALS IN PUBLIC FAVOR.

People Wanted Yesterday's Paper from Early Morning Until Midnight—The Delivery Wagons Begged by Boys—Dentists Unable to Get Enough Papers—Words of Hearty Praise from Many Sources.

"Didn't any of the other papers have any account of the execution of Driscoll?" asked a guard on the Third Avenue elevated train of a reporter for THE EVENING WORLD this morning.

"Almost every passenger, after 8 o'clock yesterday morning and down to late in the evening, seemed to be reading THE EVENING WORLD, and I concluded the other papers had forgotten about the hanging or had overlooked it."

This was true in part. THE EVENING WORLD, with its usual foresight and enterprise, had fortified itself against all emergencies, and when, at a few minutes before the execution, Sheriff Grant ordered that the gates of the Tombs be closed and double-locked until the life of the Whyo had gone out and his body been laid in the coffin, THE EVENING WORLD's resources came into play.

Up to that time the reporter, who was one of the witnesses of the execution, had been sending frequent bulletins of the proceedings inside the walls, and they were put into type as rapidly as the best typesetters in the country could do it. So that when, a few minutes after the closing of the Tombs, the drop fell, all that remained to be done was to apprise THE EVENING WORLD of the fact, and the globe knew the whole proceedings down to and including this culminating act in the tragedy.

The reporter inside the Tombs waved his ready handkerchief to the signal man who was in view on the peak of a neighboring building; he, in turn, signalled the third man in the service who, from his chit but, exalted perch on the tall shot-tower, waved a red flag to the last man in the outside circuit, as he sat in the window of THE EVENING WORLD office. His field-glasses enabled him to see the flag, and he shouted to the man behind him with a stop-watch, "Time?"

Two seconds were consumed in passing the news to the office and THE EVENING WORLD was being cried on the streets by a thousand boys fully five minutes before its earliest contemporary.

But that was not all. THE EVENING WORLD had provided against all mistakes or hitches in the signal service. An officer in Centre street saw a cabby looking his sturdy horse into a terrific gallop and pondered upon the cause of the hurry. In four minutes after the drop fell the cab stopped before THE WORLD office and a messenger brought in the news, simultaneously it was being received by the other leading news sources.

"The drop fell at just 7.24."

There are about a thousand newboys who get their supply of newspapers directly from the newspaper offices, and to all appearances they were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. These little chaps are quick to learn their own interests, and they were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. These little chaps are quick to learn their own interests, and they were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

"WANTS!" "WANTS!"
125,048
House, Room, Apartment, Board
Advertisements
Published in THE WORLD During 1887.

PRICE ONE CENT.

IN GREAT DEMAND ALL DAY.

"THE EVENING WORLD" AHEAD OF ALL RIVALS IN PUBLIC FAVOR.

People Wanted Yesterday's Paper from Early Morning Until Midnight—The Delivery Wagons Begged by Boys—Dentists Unable to Get Enough Papers—Words of Hearty Praise from Many Sources.

"Didn't any of the other papers have any account of the execution of Driscoll?" asked a guard on the Third Avenue elevated train of a reporter for THE EVENING WORLD this morning.

"Almost every passenger, after 8 o'clock yesterday morning and down to late in the evening, seemed to be reading THE EVENING WORLD, and I concluded the other papers had forgotten about the hanging or had overlooked it."

This was true in part. THE EVENING WORLD, with its usual foresight and enterprise, had fortified itself against all emergencies, and when, at a few minutes before the execution, Sheriff Grant ordered that the gates of the Tombs be closed and double-locked until the life of the Whyo had gone out and his body been laid in the coffin, THE EVENING WORLD's resources came into play.

Up to that time the reporter, who was one of the witnesses of the execution, had been sending frequent bulletins of the proceedings inside the walls, and they were put into type as rapidly as the best typesetters in the country could do it. So that when, a few minutes after the closing of the Tombs, the drop fell, all that remained to be done was to apprise THE EVENING WORLD of the fact, and the globe knew the whole proceedings down to and including this culminating act in the tragedy.

The reporter inside the Tombs waved his ready handkerchief to the signal man who was in view on the peak of a neighboring building; he, in turn, signalled the third man in the service who, from his chit but, exalted perch on the tall shot-tower, waved a red flag to the last man in the outside circuit, as he sat in the window of THE EVENING WORLD office. His field-glasses enabled him to see the flag, and he shouted to the man behind him with a stop-watch, "Time?"

Two seconds were consumed in passing the news to the office and THE EVENING WORLD was being cried on the streets by a thousand boys fully five minutes before its earliest contemporary.

But that was not all. THE EVENING WORLD had provided against all mistakes or hitches in the signal service. An officer in Centre street saw a cabby looking his sturdy horse into a terrific gallop and pondered upon the cause of the hurry. In four minutes after the drop fell the cab stopped before THE WORLD office and a messenger brought in the news, simultaneously it was being received by the other leading news sources.

"The drop fell at just 7.24."

There are about a thousand newboys who get their supply of newspapers directly from the newspaper offices, and to all appearances they were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. These little chaps are quick to learn their own interests, and they were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning. They were all of them congratulating the delivery windows of THE EVENING WORLD yesterday morning.

"WANTS!" "WANTS!"
125,048
House, Room, Apartment, Board
Advertisements
Published in THE WORLD During 1887.

PRICE ONE CENT.

IN GREAT DEMAND ALL DAY.

"THE EVENING WORLD" AHEAD OF ALL RIVALS IN